

New store was opened on the No Name Street

In the 18:00 pm was opened new store. The name of this store is “HAPPY CHOOSE”. In this store you can buy everything your heart desires. We interviewed the designer of this store and below you can see his answer:

“It was very difficult because the design of this building is very unusual. You know that in order to interest a potential buyer to come into this store, this store has to be visually pleasing and at the same time mysterious.”

—by general designer Daniel Ainsworth.

Why you should visit it?

This store has so much production that you can buy at low price. There is also a small cafe where you can order coffee of tea or something similar. So visit it soon.
